

American Federation for Aging Research Southeast Affiliate at Emory University

announces the

Kensington-Hartford Travel Award in Geriatrics Award Program – 2011

• Program Components:

- Grant covering conference registration and travel expenses to attend the Gerontological Society of America 64th Annual Scientific Meeting in Boston, MA, November 18-22, 2011 (up to $2,000 of qualifying expenses)
- One year paid membership to the GSA
- Ticket to lunch at the annual conference and invitation to networking meeting with other Kensington-Hartford scholars and distinguished leaders in geriatrics

• Eligibility:

- Applicants must be a student enrolled in a doctoral program, post-graduate resident, fellow trainee and/or junior faculty member (6 years or less since university appointment) from one of the eight major Georgia universities.
- Applicants must secure the sponsorship of a faculty member in their program. This sponsor will write a letter of recommendation for the proposed travel award.
- Applicant must be a United States citizen or have a permanent alien status.

• Timeline:

- Applications due (via email- rdillar@emory.edu)
Before 5:00 p.m., Friday, October 21st, 2011.
- Anticipated funding notification:
October 28th, 2011

For further information and application forms contact:

Rebecca Dillard, MA
rdillar@emory.edu; 404.728.6868

Participating organizations and previous awardees:

EMORY
UNIVERSITY

Georgia State University

MERCER
UNIVERSITY

The Medical Center
of Central Georgia

CLARK ATLANTA
UNIVERSITY

MOREHOUSE
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE